Yoga Session Abi Adams

Tue 12th May • 7:30 pm - 9:00 pm

Free - £20

Please join me and other great women as we virtually come together to work from the inside out, receive support and share what we're going through right now. This time is about encouraging you to give your body, mind and emotions space to breath.

During this session you will be invited to share the emotions you are currently experiencing, writing them down before you are guided on meditation to inspire the feminine energy within you, drawing your attention inward towards your body, its natural signals and how we can communicate with ourselves beyond words.
